World Archery President Prof Dr Ugur Erdener opened the 51st World Archery Congress in Copenhagen, Denmark at 9:00 am on Friday 24 July 2015.

The floor was then given to World Archery Honorary President Mr Francesco Gneccchi-Ruscione, who expressed his pleasure and pride at being a part of the archery family, an example of forward-thinking organisation, managing a clean sport and with good governance.

President of the Congress 2015 Organising Committee Mr Rolf Lind then welcomed all delegates to the City of Copenhagen, gave details about Congress and the World Archery Championships that followed.

The President said archery had always been at the forefront of change throughout history.

Olympic archery evolved and adapted itself to the new challenges of sport and technology, said President Bach. It was one of the first sports to include women in competition at the Olympic Games and was the first international federation to elect a female President.

The IOC President added that the World Archery Excellence Centre in Lausanne was expected to be a great facility, a tool for research and communicating the Olympic values – and that the project matched the values of Olympic Agenda 2020: credibility, sustainability and youth.

President Bach thanked the World Archery President, who chairs the IOC's Medical and Scientific Commission, for being part of the fight against doping in sport.

Regarding the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, President Bach said the IOC expects archery to deliver a great event for its athletes.

9. REPORTS

9.1 President's Report

"Dear Friends,

"We are together again in Copenhagen for the 51st World Archery Congress. As you know very well, we had a very successful Archery World Cup Final in the heart of this beautiful city in 2009 and I believe that we will have another unforgettable event, Outdoor World Archery Championships, immediately after our Congress. Unfortunately I will not be able to be here together with you and our athletes during our important event due to the IOC Executive Board Meeting and the IOC Session which will be held in Kuala Lumpur exactly on the same dates.

"As we all know, World Archery Congresses are very good opportunities for all of us, for sharing ideas and informing our friends about main activities. I am happy that we gathered here one more time for our great sport. I would like to inform you about some of our activities and related matters very briefly.

"As you know there was a management change in the IOC in 2013 and Dr Thomas BACH was elected as the President of the IOC in Buenos Aires on 10 September, just before our last Congress which was held in Belek-Antalya on 27-28 September. Dr. BACH had attended our previous World Championships with many other IOC Members. This was the new President's first participation in a major sports event and it was a great honour for us, for our great sport.

“President BACH declared two important projects immediately after his participation in our World Championships; first one was related to clean athlete, especially regarding fight against doping and second project was very vital for the Olympic Movement; it was Olympic Agenda 2020. After having one year process time, IOC Session unanimously approved all 40 recommendations in Monaco last December as the new roadmap of the Olympic Movement. During the one year process time period, IOC received more than 40 thousand interventions and comments from all and nearly 220 observations from the IOC members in the IOC Session which was held in Sochi during the Winter Games. And then, all comments and ideas were discussed in 14 different Working Groups with the participation of IOC members and experts. I was also a member of Protecting Clean Athletes Working Group. Now we are in the implementation phase of all 40 decisions. I do not want to take too much of your time, but I can inform you about some headlines of the main decisions concerning Olympic Agenda 2020; Evaluate bid cities, key opportunities and risks, Sustainability of the Olympic Games and Olympic Movement, Move from a sport-based to an event-based programme, Foster gender equality, Protecting clean athletes, Launch an Olympic Channel, Comply with basic principles of good governance, Support autonomy, Increase transparency etc.

“Another important approach from the IOC President was related to protecting clean athletes and Dr. Bach reserved USD 10 million for supporting anti-doping projects and another USD 10 million for preventing illegal betting and match fixing.

“We are very happy and very proud that our great sport archery has a very strong position in the Olympic Movement and our relations with all our stakeholders are very efficient. In this point I want to inform you about a chaotic problem which we lived it together with almost all Olympic sports. As you know there is an umbrella organisation for all sports federations (Olympic, Non-Olympic, recognised by IOC, not recognised by IOC) and it is SportAccord. World Archery is also a member of this organisation. There was a SportAccord General Assembly in Sochi last April, and in the opening part of the General Assembly its President (He is also a President of an Olympic sport) made an unfortunate speech and he insulted the IOC President. Of course it was a big shock for everyone in the hall, including Russian President Vladimir PUTIN. Almost all Summer Olympic Federations and ASOIF displayed immediate reactions after this problem and they left this organisation. As the World Archery, we showed the first reaction toward this unacceptable and impolite situation and almost all other Federations followed us. Finally SportAccord President resigned from his position and there will be an extraordinary general assembly in the upcoming months and most probably this mission will finish.

"I am personally very happy and proud that, as the representative of this great family –that is, you- I was elected the Executive Board Member of the IOC in 2014 during the Sochi Winter Games and as the Council Member of ASOIF last year again. Of course my main goal is to contribute some ideas to the Olympic Movement. In addition, I was appointed by the IOC President as the Chair of IOC Medical and Scientific Commission in the last year. I am also a member of Olympic Foundation Board in Lausanne. Meanwhile I carry on my jobs in WADA.

"Together with our Secretary General, we will inform you about the details of our important Project during the Congress but I would like to say some few words about it now. As you know World Archery Excellence Centre is under construction now and this Project was one of our dreams especially in the last four or five years. We organised its First Stone Ceremony with the participation of the IOC President, IOC Directors and all important Cantonal and City Authorities in Lausanne, on 9 April. We believe that this is a very prestigious Project not only for World Archery but also city of Lausanne and the IOC President and all authorities expressed us their appreciations several times regarding the World Archery Excellence Centre. Of course we are building this Centre with some important supports and at this point, I would like to thank our Honorary President Jim EASTON and our friend Greg EASTON very much for their great contribution through Easton Sports Foundation. Again I thank the IOC President and cantonal and city authorities for their supports.

"Our World Cup series continue very successfully and as you know this is a very favourable competition system, not only for our archers, but also for TV. Especially in the last two years we regularly had good coverage on Eurosport and it will be the same this year as well. I would like to thank our prestigious sponsor Longines for their support for broadcasting of our events. And also I thank World Archery TV Team; Cedric Roger and his team members.

"Another important opportunity for our great sport will be the Olympic Channel. It was decided by the IOC in the Olympic Agenda 2020 Project and its budget also reserved. This Channel will start towards the end of this year on digital platform and it will cover all sports.

"Once more I have to mention that World Archery sponsorship programme is very important and very vital for sustainability of our activities. Without enough sponsor income we cannot have a successful operation in different areas and I would like to thank all our sponsors for their great contribution to World Archery. As you know this is a win-win situation and we also have to support them in different areas. This year we have a new arrangement concerning our sponsorship process and our Secretary General will inform you about the details.

"I am very happy to inform you that World Archery has a very good harmony in the office operations and all of our staff, under the leadership of our Secretary General Tom Dielen, always do their best in accordance with our mission which was set many years ago. As the World Archery President, I thank our Secretary General Tom DIELEN very much for his great contribution to our organisation and also I thank our staff Pascal COLMAIRE, Juan Carlos HOLGADO, Caroline MURAT, Chris MARSH, Chris WELLS, Thomas AUBERT, Ludivine Maitre WICKI, Deqa NIAMKEY, Séverine DERIAZ, Jenny BRUGGER, Jae Kyung LEE and Laurent HADORN for their great efforts. My special thanks go to Juan Carlos HOLGADO who was the leader of our great Event Team and now he has to reserve most of his time for the World Archery Excellence Centre. I believe that he will do his best for our Centre. Chris MARSH took over his job and I believe he will also have a successful event operations all over the world. I happily point out that World Archery event standards are continuously improving and now our Organisers' Manual is available for all our event organisers for observance of our good standards. In this part I would like to thank Matteo PISANI, George TEKMITCHOV, Andreas LORENZ and our official photographer Dean ALBERGA for their great contributions to our successful Event Team.

"As I have always mentioned, World Archery has many well prepared and printed publications for sharing our activities with all our stakeholders and we use all social media platforms efficiently. Our team works very well for this important activity and I would like to thank Chris WELLS as the Communications Manager of our organisation and our friend Bob SMITH as well. I thank Uğur Korkmaz and Hakan BALCI from Ankara Office too.

"As the President of World Archery, I would like to thank all my Friends in our Executive Board for their great contributions to our activities and ensuring a very good harmony in our great family. Of course I thank all our Committee Members very much for their great activities for our great sport.

“All together, we have an incredible improvement in our great sport. This success belongs mainly to you, because we have prepared our very dynamic Archery World Plan together. Your contributions have always been very important and very valuable for us. We are very proud that we have reached all our goals during the first stage of our plan and now we are ready for a new breakthrough in the coming years. I strongly believe that we will do everything together and I thank you very much.”

In 2014, FIDTA's activities were only related to funding the World Archery Excellence Centre in Lausanne and the seminar for the Member Associations. Voting on Motion 5: Passed

Motion 6

Book 1 – Chapter 2 – Appendix 1

Congress resolves to de-couple the Congress from the World Championships, and further resolves to seek an appropriate time and venue for Congress bearing in mind the demands of the competitive archery season.

IRL took the floor to present the motion. The reason for this proposal was that small countries may not be able to organise a World Archery Championships but may have the facilities to welcome a Congress, and this way show that archery is active in the host country. IRL also proposed that it would be an opportunity for World Archery to schedule Congress at a time that may be more appropriate than when the World Archery Championships are held. .

Finally, IRL stated that for small countries, people may have different functions at World Archery Championships which can make attending Congress difficult (for example, a President may also be the team manager who may have team responsibilities during Congress).

TGA worried that this decision may have an incidence on the quality of governance and democratic function of World Archery as many small countries may not be able to attend both events separately.

The World Archery President reminded Congress that most of the International Federations in the Olympic movement hold their congress separately, and he also suggested that World Archery could accommodate delegates for two or three days if such a motion would pass.

Ms Viktoriya Koval stated that it is important for the athletes to have the support of the Member Associations during a World Archery Championships, which might not be the case if Congress was detached from World Championships.

Voting on Motion 6: Rejected

With the exception of Motion 5, which comes into effect immediately after Congress, all changes come into effect on 1 April 2016.

15. WORLD ARCHERY PLAN

The Secretary General informed Congress about the state of the World Archery Plan.

World Archery successfully achieved its vision of making archery internationally recognised as one of the important Olympic sports by the year 2012.

This brought about significant changes and results within the sport and World Archery over following number of years. This included the creation of the World Archery brand and spreading this brand to Continental and Member Associations.

It saw World Archery's events transformed to being staged in iconic locations in new and innovative ways, as well as the way the organisation communicates with fans, athletes and the outside world change with the times, using new platforms to reach these targets.

Ultimately, it improved World Archery's position in the Olympic Ranking, achieving World Archery's vision for Phase I, in place as an important Olympic Sport.

The vision of World Archery back in 2007 was built on the belief that a stronger position in the Olympic Games would create an even stronger platform for the entire sport to develop.

The success achieved in Phase I allowed us to build this platform, but what comes next? That is where Phase II of the Strategic Plan comes in.

In 2013, World Archery began Phase II of the Strategic Plan.

Having increased the level of recognition at the international level, the focus of the World Archery Plan turned towards doing the same on a national level.

The mission for the second phase was that: "Each World Archery Member Association would make Archery recognised as an important Olympic sport within its own country."

Delegates were informed they would participate in the establishment of the World Archery Plan through the different discussion groups that took place during the Congress.
